CHAPTER 1
CORRESPONDENCE POLICIES

1. Guidelines for Superintendent's Signature. Unless specifically delegated, the Superintendent will sign all Congressional responses and any correspondence or directive that determines broad policy or is required by law or regulation.

2. Reply Timelines

a. Routine correspondence will be completed within 10 working days.

b. Congressional replies, unless otherwise specified, should be answered within 5 working days. If a reply cannot be prepared in 15 working days, USNA will send an interim reply.

3. Briefing Sheet. Every folder delivered to Larson Hall for the Superintendent or Chief of Staff will include a USNA 5216/3 Briefing Sheet printed on blue paper.

a. USNA 5216/3, or "Blue Blazer," provides an executive summary and confirms that the appropriate chains of command and cost center heads have reviewed and edited the correspondence or directive.

b. Complete all required sections of the USNA 5216/3. The name and phone number of the person drafting the document, not the name of the office, is required. If the correspondence is self-explanatory, type "Recommend signature" in the briefing portion. The sheet must contain the initials of reviewers through the chain(s) of command and applicable cost center head(s).

c. Indicate the numerical chop order on the "Routing Order" section. Individuals chopping shall include the date initialed in the date column.

d. Complete the "Originating Office" and "Date" portion in the lower left-hand corner.

4. Folder Assembly. Folders delivered to Larson Hall for the Superintendent or Chief of Staff will be 9"x12" pocket folders with the USNA crest centered on the front of the folder.

a. Do not include intra cost center routing sheets. Folders are color coded as follows:

(1) Blue: General correspondence

(2) Red: Personnel matters

b. Assemble the folders as follows:

(1) On the outside, upper right-hand corner of each folder, attach a 1" x 2 5/8" label (commonly template 5160) and write or type the subject and originating office.

(2) Left side: Place the USNA 5216/3 on top of any tabbed reference material and, if necessary, completed envelopes.

(3) Right side: Place drafted documents requiring review and signature.

c. Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI). If the folder contains CUI to include Personal Identifiable Information (PII), affix Standard Form 901 CUI Coversheet to the outside cover of the folder before routing. Complete the CUI Designation Indicator block in the first attention field. Instructions for completing a CUI Designation Indicator block are found in Department of Defense Instruction 5200.48, CUI, of 6 March 2020.

5. Delivery. For all documents delivered to Larson Hall for the Superintendent or Chief of Staff, provide a hard copy to the administrative assistant on the second deck of Larson Hall or the Personnel Office (typically military red personnel folders) and e-mail an electronic copy to admin-routing@usna.edu or the personnel office as appropriate. Documents containing PII must be signed and encrypted before e-mailing per USNAINST 5211.3E, USNA Privacy Program, of 15 May 2023.

6. Subordinate Review Guidelines

a. Before documents are forwarded to Larson Hall for the Superintendent's signature, one or more members of the Senior Leadership Team will review and indicate approval by initialing the USNA 5216/3.

b. For correspondence within their areas of responsibility, the following will also review correspondence and indicate approval by initialing the USNA 5216/3.

(1) Comptroller. All documents governing:

(a) The financial management of USNA funds for Operations and Maintenance, Navy; Other Procurement, Navy; gifts to USNA and the Museum; Research, Development, Test, and Evaluation; and reimbursable money from outside sources.

As the Superintendent's principal uniformed legal advisor, the SJA will review all legal documents related to military personnel including administrative and disciplinary actions and interpreting laws and regulation. As the Command Ethics Advisor, the SJA will review all documents relating to ethics and standards of conduct. The SJA and Command Counsel coordinate legal issues internally as appropriate.

(3) Command Counsel. As the Superintendent's principal civilian legal advisor, the Command Counsel will review all legal documents related to or impacting USNA's civilian workforce or business activities (contracts, fiscal law, etc.). The Command Counsel and SJA coordinate legal issues internally as appropriate.

CHAPTER 2

3. Letterhead Stationery

a. USNA Command Letterhead Stationery. USNA Command letterhead stationery, exhibit 2-1, is only used for standard letters, memos, and other official business coming from the Superintendent. This letterhead will be used when a directive/governing document requires correspondence to be on "command letterhead." Only the Superintendent and those delegated to sign "By direction" of the Superintendent, listed in paragraph 1a-1ae, can sign on this letterhead. The "From" line on all correspondence and directives utilizing USNA command letterhead will be "Superintendent, U.S. Naval Academy."

b. USNA Office of the Superintendent Letterhead Stationery. USNA Office of the Superintendent letterhead stationery, exhibit 2-2, is only for business letters, letters of a personal nature, and letter to members of Congress. Only the Superintendent signs on this letterhead. "By direction" authority is not authorized utilizing this letterhead.

c. USNA Activity Letterhead Stationery. USNA activity letterhead stationery is letterhead stationery bearing the DoD seal, office, and USNA name and is used for correspondence and official business coming from the head of the department or activity of the authorized letterhead.

(1) Only the heads of the departments or activities authorized to have activity letterhead are authorized to sign on their respective letterhead stationery unless authority is designated in writing by the activity head to sign "By direction" on their authorized letterhead.

(2) If you do not have "By direction" authority for the Superintendent or "By direction" authority for a head of an activity authorized to have USNA activity letterhead listed in paragraphs 3c3(a)-3c3(l) below, you are not authorized to sign any version of USNA letterhead stationery bearing the seal of the DoD.

(3) The department and activity heads authorized USNA activity letterhead stationery are:

- (a) Office of the Commandant of Midshipmen
- (b) Office of the Provost
- (c) Office of the Director of Athletics
- (d) Office of the Dean of Admissions
- (e) Office of the Deputy for Information Technology/Chief Information Officer

- (g) Naval Academy Business Services Division

- (h) Nimitz Library
- (i) USNA Museum
- (j) Office of the Command Chaplain
- (k) Office of the Senior Marine Corps Representative
- (l) Office of the Chief Engagement Officer

d. University Stationery. University stationery is stationery that bears the crest/seal of the Academy but does not bear the DoD seal. This stationery is only authorized for correspondence requiring the University seal/crest, but is not an official matter of the command or the DoD. An example of a use for this stationery is academic letters of recommendation for midshipmen that are to be sent to non-DoD universities/entities. No delegation is required to sign University stationery, but it is only authorized if all the following conditions are met:

- (1) The stationery is uniform throughout the cost center,
- (2) The stationery is designed utilizing the approved University fonts, colors, and graphics found on the Public Affairs Office website at <https://intranet.usna.edu/PAO/graphics.php>,
- (3) The stationery is approved by the Cost Center Head, and
- (4) The stationery is not used when USNA letterhead stationery bearing the DoD seal is appropriate.

e. Letterhead Stationery Specifications and Requirements

(1) Preprinted USNA Letterhead Stationery. Offices are not permitted to electronically generate preprinted USNA letterhead stationery that bears the DoD seal. All approved Naval Academy printed letterhead stationery (authorized letterhead listed in in paragraph 3c3(a)-3c3(l) above) shall be purchased through the Defense Automated Printing Service, Annapolis and will adhere to the specifications for preprinted letterhead stationery listed in Appendix C of reference (a). Helvetica Roman is the preferred USNA preprinted letterhead stationery font.

(2) Computer Generated USNA Letterhead Stationery. Computer generated USNA letterhead stationery is an acceptable substitute for preprinted USNA letterhead stationery when no physical signature is required or a digital signature is to be used. Digital signatures must meet the requirements of Secretary of the Navy Instruction 5239.24, Department of the Navy Digital Signature Policy, of 22 Jul 2019. If a physical signature is required, preprinted letterhead must be used. Computer generated USNA letterhead must conform to the computer-generated letterhead stationery specifications listed in Appendix C of reference (a) and are different than the preprinted letterhead standards. Times New Roman is the preferred USNA computer generated letterhead stationery font.

f. Routing Documents Requiring Letterhead for Superintendent's Signature. Route all correspondence needing the Superintendent's or COS's signature on plain white bond paper to Larson Hall and send an electronic copy to admin-routing@usna.edu. After the correspondence is checked for accuracy, the Superintendent's administrative office will print the correspondence on the correct letterhead for signature.

CHAPTER 3 FORMATTING

1. General

a. Use Times New Roman font, pitch 12 (pitch 13 for action and info memos) for all USNA correspondence and directives.

b. Margins will be 1 inch for top, bottom, left, and right on each page.

c. Left justify text.

2. Sender's Symbols. Sender's symbols have three parts and will be included on all standard naval letters, business letters, endorsements, memos, and directives signed by the Superintendent or Chief of Staff. Note, some of the Superintendent's executive correspondence will only include the date in civilian format.

a. Standard Subject Identification Code (SSIC). An SSIC is the first part of the sender symbol and is a four-digit or five-digit number categorizing a document's subject and is required on all USNA messages, directives, forms, and reports. Refer to reference (c) or contact your local records custodian or the USNA Records Manager for the appropriate SSIC.

b. Originator Codes. The Originator code is the second part of a sender's symbol and can be used by themselves or with a serial number. See table (3-1) for a list of approved USNA originator codes.

(1) Originator Codes without serial numbers. When using an originator code without a serial number, just the originator code should be listed directly below the SSIC. If the correspondence is a directive, refer to USNA Instruction 5215.2L, Management and Control of USNA Directives, of 23 Oct 2020 for additional guidance.

(2) Originator Codes with serial numbers. Most correspondence signed by the Superintendent or COS will be serialized. At USNA, all classified correspondence must be serialized and any correspondence sent to a higher authority or outside entity should be serialized. The following will be adhered to when utilizing serial numbers at USNA:

(a) Correspondence sent for Superintendent or COS signature will be serialized by the Superintendent's administrative staff and logged on the Superintendent's Serial Log. Originators of correspondence to be signed by the Superintendent or COS will add the correct originator code, table (3-1), and leave the serial number blank when routing correspondence for signature.

(b) The Office assigning a serial number for a document will be the office of the signature authority of the letterhead stationery utilized for the correspondence. All correspondence on USNA command letterhead stationery or USNA Office of the Superintendent letterhead stationery will have a serial number assigned from the Superintendent's Serial Log regardless of originator code. Each signing authority utilizing an approved USNA letterhead stationery per chapter 2 paragraph 3c(3)(a)-(l) of this directive will have their own serial log when assigning serial numbers for use with their letterhead. For example, correspondence signed on Office of the Provost letterhead stationery would have a serial number assigned by the Provost's administrative staff and maintained on the Provost's Serial Log. The administrative staff of the letterhead signature authority must maintain the serial log per paragraph 2b(2)(c) and (d) below.

(c) Each USNA serial Log will contain, at a minimum, the serial number assigned, the SSIC number, the subject of the correspondence that matches the subject line when used, the date the correspondence was signed, who signed the correspondence (this could be the signature authority or anyone delegated by direction signature authority for letterhead stationery utilized), and who assigned the serial number to the correspondence. A template will be provided by the Superintendent's administrative staff if requested.

(d) Serial numbers should consist of three digits starting with 001. The serial numbers will restart with 001 at the beginning of each calendar year. The serial number will be directly below the SSIC and start with "Ser" followed by a space then the appropriate originator code, slash, and finally the three digit number from the appropriate serial log. For example, "Ser 4/010".

c. Date. The date is the third and final part of the sender's symbol. Date a letter for the day it will be signed; if unknown, leave the date blank and the appropriate administrative office will add the date of signature.

(1) Use the abbreviated date format (DD Mon YY) when corresponding with other military organizations and the civilian format (Month DD, YYYY) when corresponding with Congress, civilian agencies and businesses, and individuals.

(2) Do not use a zero preceding the numerals 1 through 9 when the day is a single digit.

d. Position. The longest line of the sender's symbol is right justified and the other two lines are aligned to the left edge of the longest line. An example of a correctly positioned sender's symbol utilizing a serial number and the abbreviated date format is below:

1531
Ser 28/001
4 Feb 25

3. “From” Line. For standard letters utilizing USNA command letterhead stationery, standard letters utilizing Office of the Superintendent letterhead stationery, standard letters coming directly from the Superintendent, or USNA directives (USNAINST or USNANOTE), the “From” line should read as:

From: Superintendent, U.S. Naval Academy

4. Signature Blocks. Start all lines of the signature block at the center of the page—not centered on the page—beginning on the fourth line below the text.

a. For standard letters, memos, and endorsements:

F. M. LAST

F. M. LAST
Chief of Staff

b. For business letters:

F. M. LAST
Vice Admiral, U.S. Navy
Superintendent

F. M. LAST
Captain, U.S. Navy
Chief of Staff

c. The signature block for individuals authorized to sign “By direction” of the Superintendent is:

F. M. LAST
By direction

d. E-mail signatures should be a professional and organizational identification of the sender along with any applicable handling instructions and/or markings for the specific e-mail’s contents and attachments. Signature Blocks for routine e-mail correspondence must, at a minimum, contain the name and telephone number of the sender. It is recommended that the signature block also contain rank and service affiliation if military, duty title, organization name, mailing address, and business cell phone if applicable. Prohibitions for official e-mail signature blocks used at USNA are as follows:

(1) Do not add slogans, quotes, motivational sayings, or other personalization to an official signature block. USNA’s mission statement and professionally appropriate Naval symbols, such as the USNA Crest, Navy anchor, or Marine Corps emblem may be included if desired.

(2) Do not add CUI markings to automatic e-mail signature blocks. Special markings must only be applied to an e-mail if the contents of the e-mail warrant it’s application. For example, an e-mail should be marked CUI if it contains privacy sensitive material, is legally privileged, or contains critical infrastructure information as defined in the DoD CUI Registry, but e-mails containing only releasable information should not contain markings as they do not apply.

5. Originator Codes. Table 3-1 contains the USNA originator codes by office or activity.

CHAPTER 4
STANDARDS AND STYLE

1. Accuracy, Brevity, and Clarity

a. The strongest letter highlights the main point in one sentence at the beginning. Put requests before justifications; answers before explanations; conclusions before discussions; and summaries before details.

b. Use short paragraphs, roughly four or five sentences; long paragraphs swamp ideas. Cover one topic completely before starting another and let a topic take several paragraphs if necessary.

c. Generally, use the active voice whenever possible. Passive voice sentences often use more words, can be vague, and can lead to a tangle of prepositional phrases. In an active voice sentence, the subject performs the action; in a passive voice sentence, the subject receives the action.

(1) A verb in the passive voice uses any form of “to be” plus the past participle of a main verb: am, is, are, was, were, be, being, been. Common solutions:

(a) Put a doer before the verb:

1. Passive: The class was taught by Professor Jones.

2. Active: Professor Jones taught the class.

(b) Change the verb:

1. Passive: Letter formats are shown in the Correspondence Manual.

2. Active: Letter formats appear in the Correspondence Manual.

d. Avoid “It is” and “There is.” These words stretch sentences, delay meaning, hide responsibility, and encourage passive verbs.

e. Avoid “the -ion of” and “the -ment of.” Most words ending in “ion” and “ment” are verbs turned into nouns. Whenever the context permits, change these types of words to verb forms. For example:

Instead of

For the assumption of

For the development of Use

To assume or assuming

To develop or for developing

For the preparation of	To prepare or for preparing
For your consideration of	Consider or considering
Make a determination	Determine
Responsible for the management of	To manage
The administration of	To administer or administering
The operation of	To operate or operating
Through the implementation of	By implementing

- f. Do not use long-winded phrases. For example:

Instead of	Use
As a basis for	For
As a means of	To
As a result of	Because
At the present time	Presently, now
Due to the fact that	Due to, since, because
For a period of	For
For the purpose of	For, to
Going into detail about	Detailing
In accordance with	Per, by, following, or under
In order to	To
In the amount of	For
In the event of	If
In the performance of	Performed or performing
Make provisions for	Provide
No later than	By
The use of	Use or using
Until such time as	Until

2. Capitalization

a. Unless referring to an individual, "midshipman" will be lower cased. For example, "Midshipman Calvin is a plebe."

b. Titles, to include military titles, and positions are not capitalized unless preceded or followed by a name. The terms such as "commanding officer," "officer in charge," "command master chief," will be lower-cased unless used with an official title or name (e.g., Commanding Officer, Naval Station, Annapolis). The only exceptions are titles that indicate preeminence, such as Secretary of Defense, Secretary of the Navy, Commandant of the Marine Corps, Chief of Naval Operations, or Superintendent.

c. Ranks and rates, e.g., “captain,” “commander,” “chief petty officer,” will be lower-cased unless being used with an official title or name. “Chief Petty Officer Murphy” is capitalized, however the term “chief petty officer” used alone is not.

d. “Sailor,” “Marine,” and the “S” in “Service member” are capitalized.

e. Do not capitalize “naval” unless part of a proper noun, such as “Naval Air Systems Command.” When referring to the U.S. Navy, “Navy” used alone is capitalized.

f. When referring to the Federal Government, capitalize both “Federal” and “Government.” However, “U.S. Government” is preferred when referring to the Federal Government of the United States.

g. When using “Service” to refer to the Military Services, the “S” in “Service” is capitalized.

3. Acronyms and Abbreviations

a. Avoid excessive abbreviating. If an abbreviation appears infrequently, spell out the term every time. Do not use an acronym if it is not cited more than three times throughout the document.

b. Unless used as a noun, “United States” is abbreviated as “U.S.” when used as an adjective. For example, the U.S. Navy is essential for defending the coasts of the United States. Note that there is no space between the letters.

c. Note the difference in the abbreviations for the Department of Defense (DoD) and the Department of the Navy (DON).

d. Abbreviate midshipman as “MIDN.”

4. Punctuation

a. Two spaces always follow a period (“.”) and colons (“:”). One space follows semicolons (“;”), commas (“,”), and an end parenthesis (“”).

b. Serial or Oxford comma. Although media and public affairs guidance differ, DON documents will use a comma before the coordinating conjunction in a series of three or more. For example, USNA’s mission is “to develop midshipmen morally, mentally, and physically and to imbue them with the highest ideals of duty, honor, and loyalty in order to graduate leaders who are dedicated to a career of naval service and have potential for future development in mind and character to assume the highest responsibilities of command, citizenship, and government.”

5. Numbers

- a. Eliminate the “.00” when writing money amounts with no cents. For example, use “$175” instead of “$175.00.”
- b. Use Arabic numerals (1, 2, 3) for numbers greater than nine.
- c. Measurements, time, and money are not spelled out—use figures even if less than 10 (e.g., 2 feet by 1 foot 8 inches, 3 days, 5 years). However, do not begin sentences with a numeric number. In this instance, the figure must be spelled out (e.g., instead of “4 years ago, the...”, the sentence must start as “Four years ago, the...”).
- d. For phone numbers, use the format (XXX) XXX-XXXX (e.g., “(123) 456-7890”).

6. Virgules (Slashes) and “and/or”. Per reference (d) and the Federal Plain Language Guidelines, do not use virgules (“/”) when they can be replaced with “and” or “or.” Further, using “and/or” is ambiguous in documents, therefore, to avoid confusion, do not use it. In the few instances where it can be truly used, write out “either A, or B, or both.”

7. Echelon. The term “echelon” for Navy echelons is not capitalized, unless at the beginning of a sentence, and echelon levels are identified with Arabic numerals (1, 2, 3), not Roman numerals (I, II, III) (e.g., “echelon 4,” not “Echelon IV”).

8. Open all letters of reply with: "Thank you for your letter of (month day, year) concerning..." Limit replies to one page if possible.
