1. Function and Membership

a. The function of the Advancement Selection/Marketplace Screen (AS/MS) boards is to consider senior enlisted candidates for advancement to the rank indicated in each board's convening order. AS/MS boards shall consider carefully, without prejudice or partiality, the record of every eligible candidate. The records and names of all eligible candidates, determined as of the date each board convenes, will be furnished to the board.

b. I will personally appoint the members of AS/MS boards. During each board process, the personnel assigned as board members work directly for me, under oath. Board members are entrusted with selecting the future leadership of the Navy. The performance of these duties will have a greater effect on the future of the Navy than any other duties they perform. During the board process, all other duties of an assigned member are secondary to the board process and the utmost care will be given to ensure the process is not compromised or rushed to accommodate outside concerns. Each record reviewed represents years of service by the individual candidate. It is absolutely essential that your evaluation affords each eligible candidate fair and impartial consideration.

2. Boards shall proceed in accordance with the convening order, any guidance contained in this letter, the cycle NAVADMIN and enclosure (1).

ADVANCEMENT SELECTION/MARKETPLACE SCREEN BOARDS PRECEPT

3. Reference (a) will be provided in the board spaces in conjunction with the precept and convening order, to inform board members of specific requirements to be qualified and typical career milestones of the candidates within each paygrade and rating. It is not expected that every candidate will meet the typical career path and guidelines depicted in reference (a).

4. Unless expressly authorized or required by me or higher authority, no member of the board, recorder, assistant recorder or administrative support staff may disclose the proceedings, deliberations or recommendations of the boards. All board members, the recorder, assistant recorders and administrative support staff must comply fully with these requirements, and I expect each board president to emphasize the need for strict confidentiality.

5. In order to continually improve the board process, each board president is directed to provide written feedback via the Deputy Chief of Naval Personnel (DCNP) immediately after the board regarding all written guidance that I provide for the board. The board president should indicate whether all written guidance to the board was sufficiently direct, clear and concise to assist board members in performing their duties. The report should also assess board support and the administration of the board. Further, an office call and a debrief regarding the board process should be offered to myself and DCNP. DCNP and I will accept an office call offer if the written feedback warrants it.

GENERAL GUIDANCE

1. Duties of the Board President. The president of a board is appointed by me, shall perform prescribed administrative duties, and is a voting member of all tank groups. The board president has no authority to constrain board members from recommending or not recommending candidates for advancement. During the board proceedings, the president may direct a second review of any record at any time if it is deemed the record was not adequately evaluated. Additionally, the president may direct the Senior Enlisted Advisor to conduct spot checks of individual record reviews.

2. Duties of the Board Senior Enlisted Advisor (SEA). The SEA of a board is appointed by me and shall serve as the Board President's advisor and a voting member of all tank groups. The SEA shall raise important issues before the board in the interest of full disclosure to help clarify selection standards, provide institutional expertise regarding each rating and assist in deliberative matters during the execution of the board. The SEA has no authority to constrain board members from recommending or not recommending candidates for advancement. The SEA should, under direction of the Board President, conduct spot checks to ensure thorough record reviews are completed.

3. Board Proceedings. The following directions apply to all board proceedings:

a. Each of you (president, SEA, members, recorder, assistant recorders and administrative support staff) is responsible for maintaining the integrity and independence of this board and for fostering careful consideration, without prejudice or partiality, of all eligible candidates.

b. You must pay particularly close attention to the rules governing communications with and among other board members, the information authorized to be provided to you, and the procedures you should follow if you believe that the integrity of this advancement selection and Marketplace screen board has been improperly affected.

c. You may not receive, initiate or participate in communications or discussions involving information that is precluded from consideration by a board. You are to base your recommendations on the material in each candidate's military record, any information I have provided to the board and any information about his or her own record communicated to you by individual eligible candidates in accordance with the regulations I have issued.

d. In your deliberations, you may not discuss or disclose the opinion of any person not a member of the board concerning a candidate being considered unless that opinion is contained in material provided to the board in accordance with Navy regulations. You may not introduce anything about a candidate that is not documented in the candidate's record or letter to the board.

e. In addition, should a candidate's record reveal the removal of an evaluation, a member of the board may not discuss any personal knowledge regarding the circumstance that resulted in the removal of the evaluation, nor should any member conjecture or draw any inference as to the underlying circumstances involved.

f. The Master Chief Petty Officer of the Navy, and, for reserve boards, the Reserve Force Master Chief Petty Officer and I are the only individuals who may appear in person to address you on other than administrative matters. All communications with this board, other than those that are clearly administrative, must be in writing, given to each of you and made part of the board's record. I have designated in writing those persons authorized to provide routine administrative information to you.

g. To ensure impartiality, you may not visit or communicate with detailers, placement officers, community managers or any candidate immediately prior to or during your time serving on the board. After you are released from the board by the board president, you may visit or communicate with detailers, placement officers, community managers or any candidate. As a general rule, communications of any kind or method with outside parties (i.e., persons other than board members, the recorder, assistant recorders, board sponsors and administrative support staff) before, during or after the board relating in any way to the board or its proceedings, discussions, deliberations or recommendations are prohibited. Questions concerning the propriety of any communications prior to the board should be addressed to the board sponsor(s). The proceedings, discussions, deliberations or recommendations of the advancement selection and screening boards shall not be disclosed, nor shall any written or documentary record of such proceedings, discussions, deliberations or recommendations be used for any purpose, unless expressly authorized or required by the Deputy Chief of Naval Personnel, me or higher authority or as outlined in paragraphs 3i and 3j below.

h. To ensure the integrity of the board process, it is imperative that you advise the board sponsor(s) of any former or ongoing relationship with any eligible candidate that may affect the perceived integrity of the board. Such relationships include, but are not limited to, spousal, immediate relative by blood, marriage, adoption or blended family up to the fourth degree of kinship (i.e., first cousin), fiancé(e), significant other or other intimate partner, ex-family member, business relationship or an accuser/accused in legal proceedings. If you have any doubts or reservations, err on the side of disclosing the relationship. This is a continuing obligation throughout the board proceedings. If necessary, take such action as will protect the integrity of the board process as outlined in paragraph 3j below.

i. Before the report of the board is signed, the recommendations and proceedings may be disclosed only to the members of the board, the recorder, assistant recorders and those administrative support staff I have designated in writing. After you sign the board report and the public release has been made, only the names of the selectees and non-selectees may be disclosed. Procedures and processes of the board may be discussed only in general terms. The proceedings and deliberations of the board may not be disclosed to any person not a board member, recorder or assistant recorder, except to request relief from board duties as outlined in paragraph 3j below.

j. If at any time you believe that you cannot in good conscience perform your duties as a member of the board without prejudice or partiality, you have a duty to request relief by me from this duty. I will honor any such request. If you believe that the integrity of the board's proceedings have been affected by improper influence of military or civilian authority, misconduct by the board president, board SEA, a member or any other reason, you have a duty to request from me or higher authority relief from your obligation not to disclose board proceedings and, upon receiving it, to report the basis for your belief.

k. During the period the board is in session, you are not authorized to hold social gatherings/meetings that involve any personnel not listed on enclosures (1) and (2) of the convening order. Regardless, discussions involving board actions may only be held in board spaces with the recorder or assistant recorders present.

4. Impermissible Considerations. Advancement selection and screening boards are prohibited from considering the following:

a. The marital status, civilian employment, religion, or volunteer service of an eligible candidate;

b. Any information regarding an eligible candidate's spouse, including, but not limited to, civilian or military employment, education, race, religion, color, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, national origin, and volunteer service; and

c. An eligible candidate's previous participation in the Career Intermission Program.

5. Organizational Leadership

a. Our Navy's leaders must be able to powerfully lead every person, regardless of an individual's background, race, religion, color, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, or national origin. To maximize our combat potential, every member of every team must feel respected, connected to mission and valued in contribution.

b. To win against any potential adversary, we must promote innovative and creative leaders who show a mindset of continuous self-improvement and a desire to "Get Real, Get Better" every day. In doing so, they must show boldness, and the ability to think creatively, challenge assumptions, and take well-calculated risks to better prepare our Navy to win in combat.

6. Area Tours. If a candidate's record contains multiple or consecutive tours in a particular geographic location, it should not be viewed negatively, provided the candidate has progressed in billet complexity, professional development and leadership responsibility. Likewise, those candidates who have demonstrated the ability to succeed in challenging assignments in varied geographic locations, particularly overseas, should be viewed positively.

7. Record Review. Commands should have taken proactive steps to ensure candidates' records are properly updated and that candidates review their Official Military Personnel File (OMPF) and Performance Summary Record (PSR) and submit letters to the board (LTBs) as appropriate. Each candidate has the opportunity to review his or her OMPF and PSR and then exercise reasonable diligence to ensure his or her record is complete and accurate. If the OMPF or PSR does not get updated, candidates have the opportunity to provide the missing or corrective documentation via the candidate's LTB. If there is missing information in the record, board members shall evaluate the record with what is available. Candidates are not required to submit a LTB to notify the board that everything is complete and accurate in their record.

a. In evaluating a gap in a candidate's evaluation history, consideration should be given to the fact that any gap, regardless of its duration, results in a period of undocumented performance.

b. Some candidates may have breaks in service of extended length due to enrollment in Career Intermission Program or release from active/inactive duty. These breaks in service should be considered as a natural part of a candidate's history of assignments and shall not be viewed negatively. Board members shall evaluate these records in the same fashion as other candidates who do not have a break in service. The entire record shall be reviewed for those candidates who are being considered for selection to the next higher rank or screened to compete for advancement via the Marketplace.

c. A decline in performance is a drop of two or more evaluation trait grades by the same reporting senior on subsequent reports within the same paygrade or promotion status. If the comments specifically state it is not a decline in performance, the report is not considered adverse. A decline in trait grades due to a transfer between a command's shore and sea components with the same reporting senior is not in itself considered a decline in performance or an adverse report.

d. A decline in performance also occurs when there is a drop in promotion recommendation by the same reporting senior on subsequent reports within the same paygrade or promotion status. If comments clearly state it is caused by forced distribution, it is not considered a decline in performance or an adverse evaluation.

e. The Reporting Senior's Cumulative Average (RSCA) is the reporting senior's historical trait average of all Sailors (active-duty and reserve) within a paygrade. Board members shall compare the RSCA to the candidate's individual trait average (as evaluated by that reporting senior) to determine the candidate's level of performance. Board members shall also compare the individual trait average to the summary group being reported.

f. During deliberations, a candidate's entire record is available for review.

8. Adverse Information

a. Just as you must consider positive performance, you must consider incidents of misconduct, or substandard or marginal performance documented in a candidate's official service record when selecting candidates who are best and fully qualified for advancement. Adverse information may reflect negatively on a candidate's suitability for selection and future service in positions of greater responsibility and trust. For those candidates who are recommended for selection and who have received disciplinary action or whose official military personnel file contains matters relating to conduct or performance of duty that was documented within the past 5 years (regardless of the date the underlying matter occurred), every board member in that respective tank shall be briefed on the adverse information contained therein prior to the final board decision. Board members must differentiate between discriminators and adverse information during review and briefing to ensure each record receives thorough and fair consideration.

b. While the Navy is and will remain a service of the highest standards and strict accountability, we do not embrace blind adherence to a zero-defect mentality. Many of us have made mistakes in the past, the test is of the character and resilience of the candidate and his or her ability to learn and grow from that experience. Also, some reportable incidents are of a more serious nature than others. Where a candidate has performed exceptionally well in the time subsequent to a reportable incident, I consider the test to be substantially met. Taking into account the candidate's entire career performance, the severity of the incident and the candidate's performance after the reportable incident, as well as the amount of time that has passed since the incident, you shall determine if the candidate has fully recovered. You should not automatically discount any candidate who, except for a single incident, would otherwise be considered best and fully qualified for advancement.

c. Advancement selection boards will not consider any adverse information related solely to COVID-19 vaccine refusal in cases in which an accommodation was requested. Additionally, you shall not consider any other adverse information related solely to COVID-19 vaccine refusal. If adverse information related solely to COVID-19 vaccine refusal is identified in an eligible Sailor's record, you will notify the board administrative support staff.

d. For those members having transferred to the Reserve Component after service in the Active Component, you are charged with maintaining the advancement standard - they are the same for AC and RC. I would expect a significant discussion to take place and exceptional performance and circumstances to warrant advancement in the RC after having failed to promote to the same grade in the AC.

APPENDIX - B

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY

1. The Department of the Navy is dedicated to equality of treatment and opportunity for all personnel without regard to race, religion, color, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation or national origin. The Navy demands a professional working environment in which any of these bases will not limit a Sailor's professional opportunities. Discrimination on any of these bases is contrary to the Department's Core values of honor, courage and commitment. Accordingly, within this board's charter to determine the candidates who are best and fully qualified, you must ensure that candidates of every race, religion, color, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation and national origin are given fair and equitable consideration.

2. Your evaluation of all candidates must be fair and equitable. You should evaluate each candidate's potential to assume the responsibilities of the next higher rank, with the overriding factor being performance of duties assigned.

3. The Navy has assigned some candidates outside of traditional career development patterns, including assignments to institutional instructor recruiting, and Individual Augmentee billets). These assignments, though greatly beneficial to the Navy, may have foreclosed to the candidates so assigned opportunities available to other candidates. In addition, other utilization policies or practices, such as those based on statutory restrictions on the assignment of women, may have had an effect on career opportunities previously. Such assignment practices should not prejudice the selection of these men and women for advancement. Successful performance of duties assigned is the key in measuring a candidate's potential for advancement. Duties performed well by men and women affected by such utilization policies or practices should be given weight equal to duties performed well by a candidate not affected by such policies or practices.

4. This guidance should not be interpreted as requiring or permitting preferential treatment of any candidate or group of candidates on the grounds of race, religion, color, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation or national origin.

APPENDIX - C

BOARD REPORTS

1. The record of the board's proceedings shall be compiled by the recorder, assistant recorder(s) and administrative support staff. The written report of the board shall be signed by the board president, board SEA, members, recorder and assistant recorder(s). It shall contain the names of the candidates recommended for advancement or screened to compete in the Senior Enlisted Marketplace, with appropriate selection/screen statistics, as well as the following items:

(2) You were not subject to or aware of any censure, reprimand or admonishment about the recommendations of the board or the exercise of any lawful function within the authorized discretion of the board.

(3) You were not subject to or aware of any attempt to coerce or improperly influence any action in the formulation of the board's recommendations.

(4) You were not party to or aware of any attempt at unauthorized communications.

(5) To the best of your knowledge, the board carefully considered the record of each candidate whose name was furnished to the board.

(6) The candidates recommended for advancement/screened are, in the opinion of the majority of the members of the respective tank group, fully qualified and best qualified to meet the needs of the Navy from those candidates whose names were furnished to the board.

(7) You are aware that the names of the selected/screened Sailors will be released to the public after the board report is approved, and you know that you may not disclose the recommended selected/screened Sailors until the names are released to the public.

(8) You understand that, except as authorized by Naval Regulations, you may never disclose the proceedings, discussions or recommendations of the board to any person who is not a board member, recorder or assistant recorder.

d. A list of all candidates eligible for consideration.

e. This precept.

2. The report shall be forwarded for approval to me via the Deputy Chief of Naval Personnel.

APPENDIX - D

1. The president of the board or a commissioned officer shall administer the following oath or affirmation to the recorder and assistant recorders:

"Do each of you, solemnly swear (or affirm) that you will keep a true record of the proceedings of this board and you will not divulge the proceedings of this board except as authorized or required by the Chief of Naval Personnel or higher authority, so help you God?"

2. The president of the board or a commissioned officer shall then administer the following oath or affirmation to the members of the board:

"Do each of you, solemnly swear (or affirm) that you will perform your duties as a member of this board without prejudice or partiality, having in view both the special fitness of candidates and the efficiency of the naval service and you will not divulge the proceedings of this board except as authorized or required by the Chief of Naval Personnel or higher authority, so help you God?"

3. The president of the board or a commissioned officer shall then administer the following oath or affirmation to the administrative support staff:

"Do each of you, solemnly swear (or affirm) that you will not divulge the proceedings of this board except as authorized or required by the Chief of Naval Personnel or higher authority, so help you God?"

To: FY-27 Administrative Selection Boards
Subj: FY-27 ADMINISTRATIVE SELECTION BOARD PRECEPT

Encl: (1) FY-27 Administrative Selection Board Guidance
(2) Unauthorized Disclosure of Sensitive Material

1. Applicability and Clarifying Information. This precept applies to all Deputy Chief of Naval Personnel approved Administrative Selection Boards occurring within the FY-27 board season. The FY-27 Administrative Selection Board season encompasses boards convening 1 October 2025 through 30 September 2026.

2. Function and Membership

a. The function of Administrative Selection Boards (ASB) is to consider candidates for selection for specific programs or career milestones indicated in each board's convening order. The boards shall consider carefully, without prejudice or partiality, the record of every eligible candidate. The records and names of all eligible candidates, determined as of the date the boards convene, will be furnished to the boards.

b. I will personally appoint the members of ASBs. During the board process, the personnel assigned as board members work directly for me, under oath. Board members are entrusted with selecting the future leadership of the Navy. The performance of these duties will have a greater impact on the future of the Navy than any other duty they perform. During the board process, all other duties of an assigned member are secondary to the board process, and the utmost care will be given to ensure the process is not compromised or rushed to accommodate outside concerns. Each record reviewed represents years of service by the individual candidate. It is absolutely essential that your evaluation afford each eligible candidate fair and equitable consideration.

3. The boards shall proceed in accordance with the convening order, any guidance contained in this precept, and the FY-27 Administrative Selection Board Guidance, enclosure (1). Additionally, board members, recorders, assistant recorders, and administrative support staff will be required to sign an Unauthorized Disclosure of Sensitive Material statement, enclosure (2), acknowledging their responsibilities to prevent the unauthorized disclosure of sensitive material.

4. Best and Fully Qualified Selection Standard

a. Fully Qualified. All candidates recommended for selection must be fully qualified; that is, each candidate recommended must be capable of performing the duties of the program or milestone for which selected. Candidates who do not meet that standard shall not be recommended for selection. Candidates fully qualified for selection demonstrate an appropriate level of leadership, professional skills, integrity, management acumen, grounding in business practices, and resourcefulness in difficult and challenging assignments. Their personal and professional attributes include adaptability, intelligent risk-taking, critical thinking, innovation, adherence to Navy and Department of Defense ethical standards, physical fitness, and loyalty to Navy Core Values.

b. Best Qualified. Among the fully qualified candidates, you must recommend for selection the best qualified within their respective competitive category. Proven and sustained superior performance in command or other leadership positions in difficult and challenging assignments is a definitive measure of fitness for career milestones. Furthermore, successful performance and leadership in combat conditions demonstrate exceptional career milestone potential and should be given special consideration. Each board member shall apply this guidance when deliberating and voting. Additionally, members will use the considerations below to guide their determination of the best qualified candidates.

5. Additional Considerations

a. Commitment to Operational Excellence. Because Mission One for every candidate is the operational readiness of our Navy, the best qualified candidates will demonstrate an unrelenting commitment to operational excellence. This commitment will be evidenced by mastery of the skills critical to naval warfare. Additionally, the Navy values service and superior performance on operational fleet and subordinate command staffs.

b. Individual Augmentee (IA/Global Support Assignment (GSA)/Overseas Contingency Operations (OCO)/Irregular Warfare/Afghanistan-Pakistan Hands (APH) Program Assignment. The board may give favorable consideration to those candidates who have displayed superior performance while serving in Individual Augmentee (IA)/Overseas Contingency Operations (OCO) (also known as GSA; OSA for enlisted)/ Irregular Warfare/Afghanistan Pakistan Hands (APH) Program assignments in direct support of OCO and Irregular Warfare assignments and, in particular, those assignments that are extraordinarily arduous or which involve significantly heightened personal risk. Special attention must be taken in reviewing these candidates' records as IA/GSA/APH assignments may not be typical of the candidate's traditional community career path and may result in candidates missing the opportunity to serve in a community recognized milestone or career gate.

6. Unless expressly authorized or required by me or higher authority, no member of the board, recorder, assistant recorder or administrative support staff may disclose the proceedings, deliberations, or recommendations of the selection boards. All board members and administrative support staff must comply fully with these requirements, and I expect each board president to emphasize the need for strict confidentiality.

7. In order to continually improve the selection board process, each board president is invited to offer written feedback regarding the guidance contained in the precept at the selection board call outs. Feedback should include, for example, whether the precept guidance was sufficiently direct, clear, and concise to assist board members in performing their duties.

GENERAL GUIDANCE

1. Duties of the Board President. The president of the board is appointed by me and shall perform prescribed administrative duties. The board president has no authority to constrain the board from recommending for selection those fully qualified candidates whom the majority finds best qualified to meet the needs of the Navy.

2. Board Proceedings. The following directions apply to all board proceedings:

a. Each of you (president, members, recorder, assistant recorders, and administrative support staff) must maintain the integrity and independence of this selection board, and foster careful consideration, without prejudice or partiality, of all candidates.

b. You must pay particularly close attention to the rules governing communications with and among other board members, the information authorized to be furnished to you, and the procedures you should follow if you believe that the integrity of this selection board has been improperly affected.

c. You may not receive, initiate, or participate in communications or discussions involving information that is precluded from consideration by a selection board. Base your recommendations on the material in each candidate's military record, any information I have provided to the board, and any information communicated to you by the candidates under regulations I have issued. In your deliberations, you may discuss your own personal knowledge and evaluation of the professional qualifications of candidates only to the extent that such matters are not precluded from consideration by a selection board or inclusion in their military personnel record. You may not discuss or disclose the opinion of any person not a member of the board concerning a candidate being considered unless that opinion is contained in material provided to the board that are in compliance with Navy regulation.

d. In your deliberations, you may discuss your own personal knowledge concerning the professional qualifications of a candidate, the board is reminded that, if such personal remarks could be considered adverse, the member cannot discuss that personal knowledge or evaluation unless such matters are contained in the candidate's official record or other material placed before the board in compliance with the law and Service regulation. In addition, should a record reveal the removal of an evaluation/fitness report, the member may not discuss any personal knowledge regarding the circumstance that resulted in the removal of the report.

e. I am the only person who may appear in person to address you on other than administrative matters. All communications with this board, other than those that are clearly administrative, must be in writing, given to each of you, and made part of the board's record. I will designate in the convening order those persons authorized to provide routine administrative information to you. The exception to this rule is the Master Chief Petty Officer of the Navy, who may address enlisted boards as appropriate.

f. To ensure impartiality, you may not visit or communicate with detailers, placement officers, community managers, or any candidate immediately prior to or during the selection board. Communications of any kind or method with outside parties (i.e., other than board members, recorder, assistant recorders, board sponsors, and administrative support staff) before, during, or after the board relating in any way to the selection board or its proceedings are prohibited. Questions concerning the propriety of any communications prior to the board should be addressed to the board sponsors. Proceedings, deliberations, or recommendations of the selection board may not be disclosed unless expressly authorized or required by me or higher authority. If a detailer, placement officer, or community manager, is assigned as a board sponsor or recorder for the administrative board, their communications with board members must be limited to their responsibilities as a sponsor or recorder. A recorder or sponsor may not participate in the deliberation discussions or provide any additional information about an individual candidate eligible for consideration by the board that is not in the individual candidate's official record.

g. To ensure the integrity of the board process, it is imperative that you advise the board sponsors of any relationship with any eligible candidate that may affect the perceived integrity of the board. Such relationships include, but are not limited to: spousal; immediate relative by blood, marriage, adoption, or blended family up to the fourth degree of kinship (i.e., first cousin); fiancé(e); significant other or other intimate partner; ex-family member; business relationship; or, an accuser/accused in legal proceedings. If you have any doubts or reservations, err on the side of disclosing the relationship. This is a continuing obligation throughout the board proceedings. If necessary, take such action to protect the integrity of the board process as outlined in paragraph 2.i below.

h. Before the report of the selection board is signed by each board member, recorder, and assistant recorder, the recommendations may be disclosed only to members of the board, recorder, assistant recorders, and those administrative support staff who have been designated in writing. After you sign the board report, only the recommendations of the board may be disclosed after I have made the recommendations public. Except as authorized by me, or higher authority, the proceedings and deliberations of the board may not be disclosed to any person who is not a board member, recorder, assistant recorder, or administrative support staff.

i. If at any time you believe that you cannot in good conscience perform your duties as a member of the board without prejudice or partiality, you have a duty to request relief by me from this duty. Any such request will be honored. If a member, recorder, or assistant recorder believes that the integrity of the board's proceedings has been affected by improper influence of military or civilian authority, misconduct by the board president or a member, or any other reason, or believes someone is exerting or attempting to exert inappropriate influence over the board or its proceedings, he or she has a duty to request relief from the obligation not to disclose board proceedings and, upon receiving it, to report the basis for this belief.

3. Organizational Leadership

a. Our Navy's leaders must be able to powerfully lead every person, regardless of an individual's background, race, religion, color, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, or national origin. To maximize our combat potential, every member of every team must feel respected, connected to mission and valued in contribution.

b. To win against any potential adversary, we must promote innovative and creative leaders who show a mindset of continuous self-improvement and a desire to "Get Real, Get Better" every day. In doing so, they must show boldness, and the ability to think creatively, challenge assumptions, and take well-calculated risks to better prepare our Navy to win in combat.

4. Area Tours. If a candidate's record contains multiple or consecutive tours in a particular geographic location, it should not be viewed negatively, provided the candidate has progressed in billet complexity, professional development, and leadership responsibility.

5. Adverse Information

a. Just as you must consider positive performance, you must consider incidents of misconduct and substandard performance documented in a candidate's official service record when determining those candidates who are best qualified for selection. Adverse information may reflect negatively on a candidate's suitability for selection and future service in positions of greater responsibility and trust. For those candidates who are recommended for selection and who have received disciplinary action, or whose privileged information record contains matters relating to conduct or performance of duty that occurred within the past five years, every board member shall review the information contained therein personally prior to the final board decision.

b. While the Navy is, and will remain, a service of the highest standards and strict accountability, we do not embrace blind adherence to a zero-defect mentality. All of us have made mistakes in the past; the test is of the character and resilience of the individual and his or her ability to learn and grow from that experience. Where a candidate has performed exceptionally well subsequent to a reportable incident, I consider that test to be substantially met. In selecting those you consider best and fully qualified, do not discount any candidate that except for a single incident, would otherwise be recommended for selection.

c. Selection boards will not consider any adverse information related solely to COVID-19 vaccine refusal in cases in which an accommodation was requested. Additionally, you shall not consider any other adverse information related solely to COVID-19 vaccine refusal. If adverse information related solely to COVID-19 vaccine refusal is identified in an eligible candidate's record, you will notify the board administrative support staff.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY

1. The Department of the Navy is dedicated to equality of treatment and opportunity for all personnel without regard to race, religion, color, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, or national origin. The Navy strives to maintain a professional working environment in which any of these bases will not limit a Sailor's professional opportunities. Discrimination on any of these bases is contrary to the Department's Core Values of honor, courage, and commitment. Accordingly, within this board's charter to determine the members who are "best and fully qualified," or "fully qualified," as applicable, you must ensure that members of every race, religion, color, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, and national origin are given fair and impartial consideration.

2. Your evaluation of all candidates must be fair and impartial. You should evaluate each candidate's potential to assume the responsibilities of the next career milestone, with the overriding factor being performance of assigned duties.

3. Impermissible Considerations. Selection boards are prohibited from considering the following:

a. The marital status, civilian employment, religion, or volunteer service of a candidate;

b. Any information regarding a candidate's spouse, including, but not limited to, civilian or military employment, education, race, religion, color, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, national origin, and volunteer service;

c. Any adverse information related solely to COVID vaccine refusal in cases where religious accommodation was requested.

d. A member's previous decision to opt out of a promotion selection board; and

e. A member's previous participation in the Career Intermission Program.

4. The Navy has assigned some members outside of traditional career development patterns (including but not limited to the following types of assignments: institutional instructors, recruiting, and equal opportunity billets). These assignments, though greatly beneficial to the Navy, may have precluded the assigned members from pursuing opportunities available to other members. In addition, other utilization policies or practices, such as those based on statutory restrictions on the assignment of women, may have had an effect on previous career opportunities. Such assignment practices should not prejudice the selection of these men and women for career milestones. Successful performance of duties assigned is the key in measuring a member's potential for selection; duty performed well by men and women affected by such utilization policies or practices should be given weight equal to duty performed well by a member not affected by such policies or practices.

5. This guidance shall not be interpreted as requiring or permitting preferential treatment of any member or group of members on the grounds of race, religion, color, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, or national origin.

APPENDIX - C

BOARD REPORTS

1. The record of the board's proceedings shall be compiled by the recorder, assistant recorders, and administrative support staff. The written report of the board shall be signed by the board president, members, recorder, and assistant recorders. It shall contain the names of the candidates recommended for selection with appropriate selection statistics, as well as the following items:

a. Convening Order.

b. All instructions, information, and guidance that were provided to the board, except information concerning particular candidates, which must be retained by the Deputy Chief of Naval Personnel.

c. Certification that:

(1) To the best of your knowledge, the board complied with all instructions contained in the convening order and precept and, as appropriate, other letters of guidance or instruction provided by me;

(2) You were not subject to or aware of any censure, reprimand, or admonishment about the recommendations of the board or the exercise of any lawful function within the authorized discretion of the board;

(3) You were not subject to or aware of any attempt to coerce or influence improperly any action in the formulation of the board's recommendations;

(4) You were not party to or aware of any attempt at unauthorized communications;

(5) To the best of your knowledge, the board carefully considered the record of each candidate whose name was furnished to the board;

(6) The candidates recommended for selection are, in the opinion of the majority of the members of the board, fully qualified and best qualified for selection to meet the needs of the Navy among those candidates whose names were furnished to the board;

(7) For those candidates who are recommended for selection and who have received disciplinary action, or whose privileged information record contains matters relating to conduct or performance of duty that occurred within the past five years, every board member has reviewed the information contained therein personally prior to the final board decision;

(8) You are aware that the names of the selectees will be released to the public after the board report is approved, and you know that you may not disclose the recommended selectees until the names are released to the public; and

(9) You understand that, except as authorized by Naval Regulations, you may never disclose the proceedings and deliberations of the board to any person who is not a board member, recorder, or assistant recorder.

d. A list of all candidates eligible for consideration, by category when appropriate.

e. This precept.

f. Adverse Information Memo, when required by the Deputy Chief of Naval Personnel.

2. The report shall be forwarded for approval to the Deputy Chief of Naval Personnel.

3. Records created as a result of this administrative selection board precept, regardless of format and media, will be managed and retained by the board sponsor per Secretary of the Navy Manual M-5210.1. In addition, an approved copy will be provided to PERS-00S to maintain for record life cycle.

APPENDIX - D

Boards Precept

Encl: (1) Board Membership
(2) Recorders and Assistant Recorders
(3) Administrative Support Staff
(4) Competitive Group Quotas

1. Date and Location

a. The boards, consisting of you as president, the personnel listed in enclosure (1) as members, the personnel in enclosure (2) as recorders and assistant recorders and the personnel listed in enclosure (3) as administrative support staff, are ordered to convene at the Navy Personnel Command, Millington, TN, at 0800, January 29, 2026, or as soon as practicable thereafter.

b. The boards shall proceed in accordance with all guidance in this letter and reference (a).

2. Advancement Board Authorized Selections. The total number of candidates who may be recommended in each competitive group shall not exceed the quotas specified in enclosure (4). The boards shall only recommend up to the quota if the board determines that there are a sufficient number of fully qualified candidates.

3. Best and Fully Qualified Selection Standard

a. Fully Qualified. All candidates recommended for advancement must be fully qualified. That is, each candidate's qualifications, experience, and performance must clearly demonstrate that he or she would be capable of performing the duties of the next higher paygrade. Candidates that do not meet that standard shall not be recommended for advancement.

Subj: ORDER CONVENING THE FY-27 ADVANCEMENT SELECTION BOARDS TO CONSIDER COMMAND SENIOR CHIEF PETTY OFFICERS FOR

(1) Candidates fully qualified for advancement demonstrate a requisite level of leadership, technical expertise, managerial and communication skills, integrity, commitment to the personal and professional development of subordinates, resourcefulness in their assignments and recognition of our Navy's heritage required to perform in the next higher paygrade.

(2) Fully qualified candidates must clearly demonstrate adherence to Navy and Department of War ethical standards, loyalty to Navy Core Values and our Chief Petty Officer (CPO) mission, vision and guiding principles as listed on the CPO evaluations.

b. Best Qualified. Among the fully qualified candidates, you must recommend for advancement the best-qualified candidates within their respective competitive group. Each board member shall apply this guidance when briefing individual records, discussing and voting. In your deliberations, you are selecting Sailors for positions of greater trust and responsibility, and you may discuss your own personal knowledge and evaluation of the professional experience of an eligible Sailor. However, you may not discuss or disclose the opinion of any person not a member of the board concerning any eligible Sailor. Additionally, each board member was specifically chosen based on experience, knowledge and character and will use the considerations below to guide their determination of the best-qualified candidates.

(1) Scope and Impact of Leadership

(a) You must consider the scope of the candidate's primary job assignments and the impact throughout the command, area, and fleet.

(b) The best-qualified candidates will have proven and sustained superior performance serving at in-service or joint assignments as a Command Senior Chief. They will have demonstrated skill in enhancing teamwork and individual performance that directly contributes to unit warfighting readiness and significant accomplishments. You must consider that the future Navy or joint force leadership will comprise a mix of service members that have excelled in both traditional and alternate career paths. You should consider candidates who have clearly demonstrated sustained superior leadership and shown competency in mentoring and developing Sailors as measured by qualification accomplishments, subordinate professionalism, advancement results, influence on retention/attrition, and the extent to which the candidate trains and educates on the principles of leadership, watchstanding, professionalism, and heritage.

(2) Mess, Sailor, and Wardroom Development and Impact.

You must consider leadership as demonstrated by successfully leading and developing the Mess, serving as a team player to solve command-wide problems, demonstrating a strong presence that sets the tone and holding the Mess accountable for their professional and personal conduct. You must also consider the candidate's impact on Wardroom development and effectiveness as demonstrated by developing, mentoring, or advising officers, individually and collectively.

(3) Outcome Focused Leadership. You must preferentially consider individuals who embody the Navy's Core Values through demonstrating a determined mindset of continuous self-improvement, with a clear focus on achieving impactful outcomes. This includes the ability to self-assess, be honest, humble, and transparently evaluate both personal and team performance, identifying areas for improvement and driving measurable results. They must demonstrate the ability to self-correct by applying problem-solving frameworks to pursue root cause analysis, leading to sustainable solutions that address the Navy's toughest challenges. Above all, they must be committed to continuous learning, actively seeking and applying knowledge from various sources to enhance both their personal growth and the overall performance of their teams, ensuring that these efforts translate into tangible, positive outcomes.

(4) Institutional and Technical Expertise. You must consider documented institutional and technical expertise and the extent to which each candidate used that knowledge to train on principles of leadership, professionalism, technical proficiency and heritage as measured by subordinate advancement results, qualification accomplishments, retention, etc. You shall also consider a candidate's management skill towards achieving warfighting readiness by evaluating the candidate's impact on unit mission; results with division, department, unit-level certifications, inspection, readiness exams and completion of required and recommended institutional and technical training curriculums, such as service or technical schools, United Services Military Apprenticeship Program, professional licenses, credentials, and other certifications.

CONSIDER COMMAND SENIOR CHIEF PETTY OFFICERS FOR

(5) Special Qualifications. You must consider the attainment of special qualifications (both above rank and in and out of rating) beyond the minimum requirements, which have an impact on mission effectiveness.

(6) History of Assignments

(a) Every job in the Navy is important and candidates can be frequently detailed to duty outside of their rating, which may not be typical of the candidate's traditional community career path. Each of the specific types of special programs and commands cannot be listed in this document, but many such types of duty are considered arduous and require selective assignment and special qualifications. In determining which candidates are best and fully qualified, you must consider that candidates serving in these types of highly selective assignments compete within a group of individually selected personnel with equally superb records. Repeat tours in special programs should not be viewed negatively.

(b) Due to operational demands or needs of the Navy, some assignments may result in a candidate missing the opportunity to serve in a community-recognized milestone to be competitively ranked on an evaluation. A candidate serving in one of these assignments may be rated by a reporting senior unfamiliar with the candidate's occupational specialty and the Navy evaluation report system. Therefore, special attention must be taken in reviewing these candidates' records.

(c) In evaluating a candidate's history of assignments, consideration should be made that candidates are not always in control of their duty assignments or scope of responsibility. Closed-loop communities can restrict assignment variety. The candidate does not control the size of a command and the number within peer ranking.

(d) You should also consider for selection those candidates who have successfully completed, or are currently serving in, the extremely demanding tour of duty as Command

CONSIDER COMMAND SENIOR CHIEF PETTY OFFICERS FOR ADVANCEMENT TO COMMAND MASTER CHIEF PETTY OFFICER

Senior Enlisted Leader. This tour demands leadership responsibilities inherent in Command Master Chief billets, but for smaller commands. You should consider that these candidates may be performing entirely out of rating during that tour.

(7) Education and Professional Development. You must consider the completion of professional military or advanced civilian education. Professional Military Education entails Primary Professional Military Education, Senior Enlisted Joint Professional Military Education, and Leadership Development (Senior Enlisted Academy, Joint Special Operations Senior Enlisted Academy, Air Force, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard Academies). Our Navy's future senior enlisted leaders hone and develop leadership skills from these courses required to function as future Command Master Chiefs.

FY-27 NAVY ACTIVE-DUTY AND RESERVE OFFICER AND CHIEF WARRANT OFFICER PROMOTION SELECTION BOARD COMPETENCY/SKILLS INFORMATION

This Secretary of the Navy (SECNAV) approved document provides additional information regarding competency/skill requirements listed in the selection board convening order. This document is a comprehensive list of all possible requirements across communities and paygrades. Individual selection boards should only reference the particular requirements listed in the competency/skill requirements section of the board's convening order.

Competencies/skills, listed in alphabetical order, include:

- a. Acquisition Corps
- b. Astronaut Consideration
- c. Attaché Duty
- d. Cyber Operations and Planning
- e. Education and Training
- f. Expeditionary Warfare
- g. Financial Management (FM)
- h. Fires Operations, Space and Planning

- k. Language, Regional Expertise, and Cultural (LREC) Experience
- l. Mine Warfare
- m. Naval Special Warfare (NSW) Experience
- n. Naval Strategist Subspecialty
- o. Navy Operational Planner
- p. Nuclear Trained Limited Duty Officers (LDO) [and Chief Warrant Officers (CWO)]
- q. Nuclear Weapons (NW) Technical Expertise

- s. Personnel Exchange Program (PEP)
- t. Recruiting Leadership
- u. Requirements Management
- v. Shore Installation Leadership

- x. Targeting
- y. Unmanned Systems (UxS)

a. Acquisition Corps. Acquisition Corps community officers possess the qualifications to manage the development, acquisition, and life cycle support of the Navy's current and future platforms and associated systems. Acquisition Corps community officers serve in critical acquisition positions and key leadership positions, which both have statutory requirements. To meet these statutory requirements, specific training and detailing to acquisition billets can preclude Acquisition Corps community officers from acquiring joint duty credit and serving in traditional command billets. To develop officers eligible to serve as major program managers and major acquisition shore commanders, assignments given to these officers may result in career patterns different from officers who have served exclusively in their primary specialty. Evaluate the quality of an Acquisition Corps community officer's performance in acquisition assignments as having weight equal to that ordinarily given to other members of their respective communities who have followed more traditional career paths.

b. Astronaut Consideration. Naval Astronauts command, pilot, and operate crewed vehicles in space for the benefit of humankind and provide critical crew perspective and leadership throughout the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), and international partner space agencies for all aspects of human space exploration. Officers are selected to be Naval Astronauts from the Unrestricted Line (URL), Aerospace Engineering Duty Officer (AEDO), Engineering Duty Officer (EDO) and Medical Corps communities at the O-3/4/5 level. Naval Astronauts support the National Security Strategy by providing a cadre of proven superior performing operational experts with a technical background to NASA. The Naval Astronaut community consists of 5-10 Naval Officers who, when selected, are sustained, superior performers in their warfare communities, retain their original designators and transition to permanent assignment to NASA. Officers serving as NASA Astronauts are not expected to meet the milestones of their original communities.

(1) Best and fully qualified Naval Astronauts have completed, or are on track to complete, initial training (Astronaut Candidate - ASCAN) and are assigned to a space mission or in an assignable status (meet NASA standards and criteria). Due to the small size of this community and decade plus tour lengths, Naval Astronauts will often rotate back and forth between junior and senior roles in both ground and space assignments. These unique community attributes mean that specific roles are not an indicator of a successful career. This community values Naval Astronauts who complete ASCAN training and maintain assignable status. Board members should take into account that Naval Astronauts who maintain an assignable status are excelling in a career path that requires them to command, operate and pilot multi-billion dollar space vehicles in the high-risk environment of Earth Orbit, Lunar Space, the surface of the moon and eventually Mars.

c. Attaché Duty. Attaché duty, which includes Senior Defense Official/Defense Attaché, American Legation U.S. Naval Attaché (ALUSNA) and Assistant ALUSNA, provides the Navy with specially trained and skilled officers who possess language capabilities, regional expertise, and cultural experience. Officers selected for attaché duty undergo a rigorous and competitive selection process and are personally screened and endorsed by SECNAV. These officers serve as the principal advisors in foreign countries to U.S. ambassadors, combatant commanders, and the leadership of the Department of Defense (DoD). The skill set necessary to become a certified and diplomatically accredited attaché may require the officer to spend time in a "not observed" or "1 of 1" fitness report position or status during training. Give careful consideration to officers who show sustained superior performance in attaché tours, as these officers have demonstrated an ability to operate in ambiguous environments and foreign theaters, while bringing valued geo-strategic perspective back to the Fleet.

d. Cyber Operations and Planning. Operations in the cyberspace domain are critical to execution of joint and Naval operations. Officers manage and execute operational missions that include DoD information network operations, offensive and defensive cyberspace planning and operations, cyber intelligence, surveillance and reconnaissance, and computer network exploitation. Particular emphasis should be given to officers with experience in multiple facets of cyberspace operations.

e. Education and Training. The Navy requires officers to support a multitude of training and educational billets often outside their mainstream career path. Give careful consideration to officers who have served tours in training commands or educational institutions, have served as faculty at military educational institutions or have otherwise contributed significantly to the development of the current and future workforce through individual or team training innovations.

f. Expeditionary Warfare. Near-peer competition and conflict will drive the Navy away from fixed infrastructures and elevate the value the Navy places on expeditionary warfare within the littorals. Naval combat forces will conduct Distributed Maritime Operations to maintain maritime movement and maneuver at the timing and tempo of the fight. This requires the promotion and retention of officers who have gained experience serving in critical expeditionary billets. Give special consideration to officers who have demonstrated performance in force development, force generation and force employment of expeditionary capabilities to include: construction, logistics, intelligence, maritime security, diving, explosive ordnance disposal, mine countermeasures, and reserve component mobilization and training. Multiple tours in expeditionary assignments of increasing complexity are particularly valued, and an officer's performance in challenging expeditionary assignments should be regarded as equal to the performance of other members of his or her respective community who have served in more traditional billets.

g. Financial Management (FM)

(1) FM expertise is the bedrock of maximizing the readiness and lethality return on investment (ROI) for our Fleets and Systems Commands (SYSCOM) of appropriated resources. In order to effectively advocate for resources and exercise the utmost degree of financial stewardship at senior levels, the Navy requires exceptional FM subspecialty officers who combine demonstrated superb operational performance, keen analytical ability and judgment, and extensive FM experience. Developing FM officers with these prerequisites is accomplished with the following subspecialty career progression:

(a) FM mid-grade officers (mid-grade O-4/O-5): FM post-graduate education or an entry-level experience tour.

(b) FM senior officers (senior O-5/O-6): FM assignments that leverage a record of operational excellence and previous FM experience.

(c) FM flag officers: Combine broad proven operational excellence and extensive FM experience tours.

(2) Give careful consideration to the Navy's need for senior officers offering the combination of demonstrated superb operational performance and strong accumulated expertise in FM experience tours in budgeting and programming within the following organizations: Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy (Financial Management and Comptroller) Office of Budget (FMB); Office of the Chief of Naval Operations (OPNAV) N8; OPNAV N9; Joint Chiefs of Staff (JCS)-J8; Office of the Under Secretary of Defense (OUSD) (Comptroller); OUSD (CAPE); combatant commander (COCOM)-J8 staffs; Fleet-N8 staffs; and type commander (TYCOM)-N8 staffs.

(3) Give special consideration to those who have earned the subspecialty code of a fully qualified FM officer: 3111, with suffixes listed below:

(a) 3111Q: FM Master's Degree (Master of Business Administration (MBA)) + one or more FM experience tours;

(b) 3111R: Multiple FM experience tours (without MBA);

(c) 3111S: Single FM experience tour (without MBA).

h. Fires Operations, Space and Planning. The Naval Force is facing an increasingly complex and contested operational environment that requires the expertise and experience of command and control of maritime forces. To maintain our competitive advantage, it is crucial that we promote officers who possess the requisite skills, knowledge, and experience to effectively plan, coordinate, integrate, synchronize and employ kinetic and non-kinetic fires capabilities across all domains. The Navy values officers with Fires expertise generated through formal training and experience. Additional qualification designator (AQD) BZ1, BZ2 and BZ3 demonstrate that an officer has both the training and experience in the employment of Fires. Additionally, Naval officers who possess an understanding of the space domain as demonstrated through the attainment of the Space Operations AQD VS5 are also of great value to the joint force and Naval service. In order to execute Fires, an officer should understand the Navy's planning process through the attainment of the JOM or JPM AQD. Board members should favorably consider officers demonstrating significant proficiency in at least one of these areas of Naval Fires.

i. Integrated Air and Missile Defense (IAMD). IAMD officers require background and experience in theater and regional air, cruise missile, hypersonic missile, ballistic missile defense, and associated command and control. In the rapidly evolving threat environment, IAMD officers need a firm understanding of threat-based mission planning tools and methodologies, netted sensors, integrated fire control, cross-domain supported/supporting capabilities, intelligence, surveillance and reconnaissance (ISR), and counter ISR and adversary hard/soft kill capabilities and tactics. Experience in IAMD capability and concept development and integrated employment of those capabilities should be particularly emphasized. Give special consideration to those who have earned the AQD KW2 - Integrated Air and Missile Defense Warfare Tactics Instructor (WTI) and KWC indicating the completion of a WTI production tour.

j. Joint Experience. The Navy must ensure its future leaders are skillful warfighters designated as Joint Qualified Officers, well versed in joint matters and strategic thinking. Give careful consideration and value to demonstrated performance in a joint duty assignment, as well as completion of joint professional military education (JPME Phase I and II).

k. Language, Regional Expertise, and Cultural (LREC) Experience. Officers who have demonstrated competence in assignments requiring foreign LREC experience provide a unique combination of skills critical to our Navy. This mission-essential capability is highly valuable, ensuring the Navy can operate forward. Place particular emphasis on officers who have demonstrated the use of foreign languages and cultural knowledge to advance Navy's international objectives and counter U.S. adversaries in any region. Give added consideration to officers who have obtained an Indo-Pacific Cadre AQD (BR0-BR5), as well as those who have demonstrated language proficiency in Chinese-Mandarin, Korean, Japanese, Arabic, Persian-Iranian (Farsi), French or Russian.

l. Mine Warfare (MIW). Combatant commanders must be able to conduct littoral operations and control the sea. Naval mines are a worldwide threat that have inflicted more damage than any other Naval weapon since World War Two and can deny access to Joint Forces for a prolonged period of time. In 2017, the Chief of Naval Operations (CNO) stated that mine warfare was "our most urgent warfighting requirement." To ensure the Navy's ability to both counter and employ mines, it is essential to develop a cadre of officers with MIW expertise to include joint and coalition MIW operations, requirements and acquisition, integrated training and certification, and mining planning and operations. Fleet commanders need MIW officers who can provide expert advice on both offensive and defensive MIW and TYCOMs must have staff who can ensure proper MIW Force manning, training and equipping. Officers who have completed multiple MIW tours afloat and ashore with increasing complexity are particularly valued and should be considered equal to members of their respective communities who have followed more traditional career paths. Give special consideration to those who have earned the AQD KW4 - Mine WTI and KWC indicating the completion of the WTI production tour.

m. Naval Special Warfare (NSW) Experience. NSW provides maritime SOF capability to enable joint force lethality and survivability inside denied and contested areas. NSW works closely with the Fleet and joint force to help solve operational problems across the spectrum of competition, crisis and conflict as well as prepare for future conflict. Officers assigned to NSW execute operations and exercises worldwide to deliver kinetic and non-kinetic effects, enable domain awareness, and execute targeting in support of fleet maneuver. They are experienced in special operations support to the Fleet, joint and interagency operations, working closely with allies and partners, space and cyber operations, and employment of unmanned systems in support of maritime combined arms maneuver. Give careful consideration to demonstrated performance and expertise in this area and consider any tour in NSW as an extremely demanding and enriching assignment.

n. Naval Strategist Subspecialty. Strategists (230x) possess the appropriate education, ideally coupled with experience to manage the development, execution and assessment of strategy. They fill a number of key assignments on various high-level staffs, including the Navy staff, combatant commander and Naval component commander staffs, Joint Staff, Office of the Secretary of Defense staffs, and National Security Council staff. It is essential to develop, employ, and retain this cadre of officers and capitalize on their strategy-associated tours in mid-grade and senior officer pay grades. Mid-grade officers with political-military education and requisite tour experience are critical to current strategy development and essential to building fully qualified (education and utilization tour) senior leadership for the future. Give careful consideration to officers with demonstrated performance in strategy, who demonstrate potential for future growth, who continue to perform well in operational tours, but who may not have had traditional shore rotations and break out opportunities.

o. Navy Operational Planner. Navy leadership will apply operational art during operational-level planning in the development of Joint Campaigns. A substantial investment was made by the Navy in the training of Numbered Fleet commanders to be Joint Force Maritime Component Commanders and the establishment of our Maritime Operations Centers. That investment must be matched by commanders and captains who, having the requisite expertise to lead maritime and joint planning, are retained to capture the investment in their education, operational experience, and fleet leadership skills. Navy officers who attend advanced warfighting schools (Maritime Advanced Warfighting School, School for Advanced Military Studies, School of Advanced Warfighting, School of Advanced Air and Space Studies, and Joint Advanced Warfighting School) receive the "JP1" AQD and upon completing lead operational planner assignments receive the "JP3" AQD. Combatant commanders, the joint staff, joint task force staffs, and fleet staffs all demand proven operational planning leaders who have attended an advanced warfighting school and are prepared to fight and win a joint campaign. Careful consideration shall be given to promoting those officers who have attained proven operational planning expertise as evidenced with the awarding of a "JP-1" or "JP-3" AQD.

p. Nuclear Trained Limited Duty Officers (LDOs) and Chief Warrant Officers (CWOs)

(1) Some nuclear-trained LDOs (620X) and CWOs (740X) serve in unique assignments outside of the mainstream LDO/CWO career path. These assignments are among the highest priority "needs of the Navy." The LDOs/CWOs filling these assignments will not have the traditional career milestones, i.e., warfare or command qualifications, and division officer or department head tours. They are specifically screened and selected to exercise Department of Energy regulatory responsibility as technical experts in Naval nuclear propulsion plant maintenance, refueling, construction, operation and training. They report directly to the Director, Naval Nuclear Propulsion Program on matters pertaining to reactor and radiological safety. The unusual responsibilities and non-traditional career path of these officers should be viewed positively, given the importance and highly specialized nature of the community.

(LDO Captain Selection Board)

(2) The career path for nuclear trained LDOs does not include command opportunity until after selection for captain. The career path for nuclear trained LDOs falls into two distinct categories: Fleet and Naval Reactors:

(a) Nuclear Power (Fleet 6200) Limited Duty Officers serve as leaders and technical managers in all matters related to the supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants. Based on assignment via sustained superior performance, extensive experience, and demonstrated leadership, a nuclear fleet LDO's pinnacle career path billet is as CVN Chief Engineer (CHENG).

(b) Nuclear Power (Naval Reactors (NR) 6200) Limited Duty Officers serve as leaders and technical managers in the oversight of all matters related to the supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants. Based on assignment via sustained superior performance, extensive experience and demonstrated leadership, a nuclear NR

LDO's pinnacle career path billet is as a Naval Reactors Representative (NRR). NRRs are individually selected by the Director of the Naval Nuclear Propulsion Program to serve as his personal representatives and nuclear regulators at each location. The position of NRR is equivalent to ashore command for other designators.

Include in the consideration sustained superior performance at all levels, with special consideration for performance in major staff and community assignments, command level positions (CO, XO, OIC, CoS), and to those that demonstrate life-long learning (technical certificates, advanced degrees).

q. Nuclear Weapons (NW) Technical Expertise

(1) Unrestricted Line Officers (11XX/13XX), Engineering Duty Officers (144X), LDOs (626X), and CWOs (726X) who serve or have served in billets directly responsible for the design, maintenance, transportation, operation, security, storage and testing of nuclear weapons and nuclear weapons systems possess unique critical skills and expertise. These skills are essential to support the safety, security, and reliability of the #1 Navy mission - strategic deterrence. Navy officers completing a NW Junior/Senior Technical Supervisor tour receive the "SP6/SP7" AQD. Give careful consideration to the demonstrated performance of officers with these skills and this expertise.

(2) LDOs (626X) and CWOs (726X) routinely serve in unique assignments outside of the mainstream LDO/CWO career path. These assignments are among the highest priority "needs of the Navy." The LDOs/CWOs filling these assignments will not necessarily have the traditional career milestones, i.e. warfare or command qualifications, and division officer or department head at sea tours. They are specifically screened and selected to exercise responsibility as technical experts in Naval nuclear weapons and weapons system construction, operation, maintenance and training. These LDOs/CWOs provide subordinate leadership to Submarine and Strategic Weapons Facility commanding officers (COs), as well as TYCOM, Fleet and OPNAV staffs. They report directly to the Director, Strategic Systems Programs (SSP) on matters pertaining to nuclear weapons safety. The unusual responsibilities and non-traditional career path of these officers should be viewed positively, given the importance as well as small size and highly specialized nature of the community.

(3) Give careful consideration to the Navy's need for senior officers offering the combination of demonstrated superb operational performance and strong accumulated expertise in NW experience tours within the following organizations: SSP; OPNAV; OUSD; STRATCOM; NAVSEA; Fleet; and TYCOM staffs.

(LDO Captain Selection Board)

(4) The career path for nuclear weapons trained LDOs does not include command opportunity until after selection for captain. Their pinnacle career path billets (assignment based on extensive nuclear weapons technical expertise and leadership experience) are Fleet/Strategic Systems Programs Chief Nuclear Weapons Inspector (CNWI) and Executive Officer of Strategic Weapons Facilities (SWF). Submarine ordnance LDOs (6260) who are serving or who have served as a CNWI or SWF Executive Officer should be viewed as equivalent to the position of nuclear LDOs (6200) who are serving or have served as a CVN chief engineer.

r. Operations Analysis (OA)

(1) In order to effectively advocate for resources and exercise the utmost degree of analytic rigor at senior levels, the Navy requires exceptional OA subspecialty officers who combine demonstrated superb operational performance, keen analytics ability and judgment, and extensive OA experience. Developing OA officers with these prerequisites is accomplished with the following subspecialty career progression:

(a) OA mid-grade officers (mid-grade O-4/O-5): OA post-graduate education.

(b) OA senior officers (senior O-5/O-6): OA assignments that leverage a record of operational excellence and previous OA education and experience.

(2) Give careful consideration to the Navy's need for senior officers offering the combination of demonstrated superb operational performance and strong accumulated expertise in OA experience tours in analysis, within the following organizations: Office of the Chief of Naval Operations (OPNAV) N8, OPNAV N1, U.S. Pacific Fleet (USPACFLT); U.S. Fleet Forces (USFF); Joint Chiefs of Staff (JCS)-J3 and J8; Office of the Secretary of Defense (OSD) (CAPE); Combatant Commander (COCOM)-J3 and J8 staffs; Bureau of Medicine (BUMED); Bureau of Naval Personnel (BUPERS); and SYSCOM staffs.

(3) Give special consideration to those officers who have earned the subspecialty code of a fully qualified OA officer: 3211, with suffixes listed below.

(a) 3211Q: OA Master's Degree (Masters of Science in Operations Research (OR) + one or more 18 month OA experience tours;

(b) 3211P: OA (Masters of Science in Operations Research);

(c) 3211I: Immediate Graduate Education Program (Master of Science in Applied Science (Operations Research));

(d) 3211L: Graduate Certificate in Systems Analysis or Data Science.

s. Personnel Exchange Program. The Personnel Exchange Program (PEP) enhances international and interservice relationships by providing exchange opportunities for US Navy officer personnel, both foreign and domestic. The Navy currently conducts 208 exchanges with 20 foreign nations, and 40 interservice exchanges with USAF, USA, USMC and USCG. The program objective is to integrate participants into the host organization as though they belong to the Service to which they are assigned. Separate and distinct from programs such as security assistance or technical assistance field teams, the intent of PEP is to:

(1) Provide a cadre of U.S. Navy officer personnel familiar with other Military Services for enhanced inter-service relationships;

(2) Share the experience, professional knowledge, and doctrine of the respective Services to the maximum extent permissible within existing laws and policies;

(3) Foster in the personnel exchanged, and in the personnel with whom they work, a mutual appreciation for the policies and doctrines of their respective services; and

(4) Encourage mutual confidence, understanding and respect necessary to strengthen relationships between participating military services.

As the Navy adapts to an increasingly complex security environment, it is imperative that we develop a cadre of officer personnel who are experienced in working with our allies and partners as we prepare for the high-end fight. The knowledge and skills these officers learn and share further the strategic goals of the Navy. Additionally, by building personal and professional relationships with key personnel in other nations/services these officers become strategic assets the Navy can leverage to meet the nation's strategic priorities and interests.

t. Recruiting Leadership. Navy Recruiting Command COs will lead one of 26 Navy Talent Acquisition Groups (NTAGs) that encompass American and overseas locations.

(1) An average NTAG covers 140,000 square miles across several states, and some include facilities in Puerto Rico, U.S. Virgin Islands, Europe, Guam, and Japan. Each NTAG employs 150-250 Sailors, civilians and contract employees in 30-50 dispersed recruiting facilities with a $25M annual budget.

(2) All recruiting command COs must possess the following:

(a) Ability to develop, implement and manage plans to meet measurable goals in support of Fleet manpower requirements for over 200 distinct officer and enlisted programs;

(b) Adaptability, flexibility, and critical thinking and problem-solving skills in the areas of sales, human resources, non-traditional force protection, public affairs, budgeting, and logistics;

(c) Adroitness and finesse in outreach to and working with senior military staffs, House and Senate members and staffers, local and state government officials, senior civilian executives and school program officials;

(d) Ability to provide proactive decentralized leadership over geographically dispersed personnel while separated from their own immediate superior in command (ISIC) and support structure;

(e) Ability to learn quickly and flourish in a unique and challenging public-facing command.

u. Requirements Management (RM)

(1) The RM Community was established by NAVADMIN 228/17, per CNO's direction to develop RM officers in a manner "similar to the Acquisition and Financial Management communities." RM officers are formally trained and designated, and are sought for repetitive tours in key Naval and joint requirement development billets at progressively higher leadership positions.

(2) RM officers identify and define current and future Navy requirements, and partner with the FM and Acquisition communities to align requirements with resources and acquisition life-cycle management, providing the what, when, and how-much regarding Navy investments in capability development, procurement and sustainment. In order to provide relevant, comprehensive warfighting value to the requirements process, these officers must have demonstrated superior expertise in their warfare designation and must have the acumen to engage in: the Joint Capabilities Integration and Development System; Urgent Operational Needs process; Planning, Programming, Budgeting and Execution process; special programs; Office of the Secretary of Defense Program Review; and regular congressional engagements.

(3) Developing RM officers with these prerequisites is accomplished with the following subspecialty career progression:

(a) RM mid-grade officers (mid-grade O-4/O-5): RM post-graduate education or an entry-level experience tour;

(b) RM senior officers (senior O-5/O-6): RM assignments that leverage a record of operational excellence and previous RM experience.

(4) Give careful consideration to the Navy's need for officers possessing the combination of demonstrated operational performance and accumulated expertise in RM experience tours within the following organizations: OPNAV N9 (N9I/N94/N95/N96/N97/N98/N9DW/N9SP); OPNAV N2/N6; OPNAV N4; OPNAV N8; JCS; COCOM staffs; Fleet staffs; and TYCOM staffs.

(5) Give special consideration to those officers who have earned the subspecialty code of a fully qualified RM officer: 6500/6511, with suffixes listed below.

(a) 6500/1/2/Q: 6500/1/2P, one RM experience tour and Requirements Management Certification Training (RMCT);

(b) 6511Q: 31XXP/32XXP, one RM experience tour and RMCT;

(c) 6511R: 6511S designation and additional RM experience tour;

(d) 6511S: Non-RM subspecialty code, one RM experience tour and RMCT.

v. Shore Installation Leadership. Shore installation leadership requires officers to plan, develop, coordinate, and execute integrated solutions across Navy commands, budget-submitting offices and warfare and provider enterprises for the operation and sustainment of Navy shore infrastructure, base operating support and current and future platform requirements. Given the importance of this mission enabler, when selecting officers to fill this vital role, careful consideration should be given to demonstrated superior Fleet and shore performance and expertise in their ability to enable operational forces, facilitate total force readiness, foster and sustain relationships, develop and implement communication strategies, and manage all aspects of shore operations efficiently and effectively. The following job and educational experience should be considered: Fleet leadership experience; any job pertaining to antiterrorism/force protection; emergency management; training, financial, or personnel management; and advanced educational degrees including, but not limited to, operations analysis, business administration, community development, city planning, public administration, law enforcement, financial management, and environmental management. In addition, consideration should be given to past Get Real, Get Better (GRGB) and Performance-to-Plan performance, to include implementation of GRGB principles, formal, coordinate problem-solving efforts, and metrics driven process improvements.

w. Space Cadre. Success of Naval operations is highly dependent on national, DoD, allied and commercial space capabilities to deliver and protect assured command and control, battlespace awareness and integrated fires to the fleet. It is imperative that the Navy maintain a cadre of space professionals comprising officers from the URL, Information Warfare, AEDO and EDO communities who are competent in joint space planning and operations, requirements generation, research and development and acquisition of both space-based and space-dependent capabilities. Members of this cadre may have atypical career paths because of specialized education, training and assignments outside of the Navy, which makes them valuable to Navy. Give careful consideration to officers with these skills, expertise, and demonstrated performance.

x. Targeting. Targeting systematically analyzes and prioritizes targets, and matches appropriate lethal and nonlethal actions to those targets to create specific desired effects that achieve the commander's objectives. The Navy requires targeteers who are experts in kinetic, non-kinetic, and high value individual targeting. Having targeting expertise within the Navy is vital to warfighting effectiveness and helps ensure Naval effects can be coordinated and synchronized across the spectrum of joint fires. Targeting expertise is gained through formal training (AQD 3A2) and through practical experience. Certain jobs in targeting result in an additional AQD, but not all.

y. Unmanned Systems (UxS). As the Navy adapts to an increasingly complex security environment, it is imperative that we develop a cadre of officers who are able to confidently operate and maximize the capabilities of UxS as part of a hybrid force. As technology matures, the Fleet will continue to develop into an increasingly complex force via the integration of unmanned and manned capabilities in all domains. If possible, officers should possess skills to analyze, engineer, operate, maintain, and operationally integrate remotely operated and autonomous systems fitted with machine learning and artificial intelligence capabilities. These systems will be fitted with machine learning and artificial intelligence as core elements of these hybrid capabilities. Give careful consideration to officers with UxS AQDs and demonstrated performance.
